Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Many international journals have proliferated over the last 20 years regarding very specific themes of research. Thus, I am pleased to announce the new open-access MDPI journal Encyclopedia to provide a wide audience platform for the presentation of outcomes and methodological approaches of current interest for the scientific community. Social sciences, humanities, physical sciences, engineering, and life sciences are the principal macro-areas of relevance for the journal. On behalf of the Editorial Board, I welcome all to Encyclopedia and invite contributions of entry papers to our editorial project.

Editor-in-Chief
Prof. Dr. Raffaele Barretta

Aims

Encyclopedia (ISSN 2673-8392) is a peer reviewed open access journal that records qualified entries from the Encyclopedia platform (www.encyclopedia.pub), as well as original reviews in all disciplines of sciences, and research articles fit in with the scope of the section Encyclopedia Studies. Entries should be reliable, objective, and established knowledge rather than original research work or unproven hypotheses. Reviews should be critical and constructive and provide recommendations for future research. Our aim is to form a comprehensive record of scientific development and provide reference information not only for researchers, but a general public interested in accurate and advanced knowledge on specific topics.

Scope

This journal covers all disciplines of sciences. Research fields of interest include but are not limited to:

- Biology and life sciences
- Earth sciences
- Physical sciences
- Materials science
- Chemistry
- Medicine and pharmacology
- Engineering
- Mathematics and computer science
- Social sciences
- Behavioral sciences
- Arts and humanities
- Encyclopedia studies
