Geographies is an open access, cross-disciplinary journal that covers the physical features of the earth and its atmosphere, also including the human dimension. The scope of this journal is extremely wide, from the study of the various components that make up our planet, to the tools used to conduct these studies, to the human impacts that affect us all. All of these issues can be addressed at a variety of spatial and temporal scales from global to local and from a single point in time through eons. Geographies promotes a quest for knowledge and to finding solutions to many of our most pressing and timely issues to benefit our world.

Aims

Geographies (ISSN 2673-7086) is an international and cross-disciplinary open access journal. Our aim is to provide an advanced forum for studies related to all aspects of geographies. Geographies publishes critical reviews, regular research papers, communications, short notes, and editorial comments as well as Special Issues on particular subjects.

The aim of Geographies is to encourage scientists to publish their experimental and theoretical results in as much detail as possible. Therefore, the journal has no restriction on the maximum length of the papers. Full experimental details should be provided so that the results can be reproduced. Additionally, electronic files or software regarding the full details of the calculations, experimental procedure, etc, can be deposited along with the publication as 'Supplementary Material'.
